

NOTES

ON THE YORK COUNTY, VIRGINIA, GOODWINS.

BY THE EDITOR.

It appears to be the popular belief that Virginia was settled by the emigrants who came with John Smith. But, as a matter of fact, a large majority of all who arrived previous to the Indian massacre of 1622 died from exposure, disease, or massacre. The real settlement of Virginia occurred during the civil wars in England. The majority of these were merchants and shipping people from the cities, who had little sympathy with the quarrels of either Puritans or Cavaliers, but who were interested in making money and securing comfortable homes. From this class came James Goodwin, of York county, descended from a line of merchants. While the tombstone of his first wife states that she had seven children, and while seven children survived their father, I am inclined to think that Robert and Martin were by the last wife, Blanche, as she mentions them in her will, and omits the other sons. The Robert, son of the first wife, probably died without issue. (See page 7.)*

The connections of the Goodwins were highly respectable. The Moores, Mosses, Chismans, Reades, Robinsons, Tipladys, Beales, Nuttings, Calthorpes, Sheldons, etc., were all justices of the county, and three or more of their representatives were councillors of State.

Moores. This family begins with Augustine Moore about 1651. Augustine Moore owned Temple Farm at the surrender in 1781. (See article "Temple Farm," QUARTERLY, Vol. II., pp. 3-21.)

Mosses. This family begins with Edward Moss, and intermarried with all the leading families of the section. To a deed of his, the clerk affixes on the record a rough drawing of a shield, evidencing heraldic charges. Like the Goodwins, they were probably from London. (See letter of Richard Banckes, p. 142.)

Reades. James Goodwin married Mildred Reade, who was daughter of Robert Reade and Mary Lilly (daughter of John Lilly). Robert Reade was eldest son of Col. George Reade, once colonial Secretary for State of Virginia, and brother of Robert Reade, private secretary to his uncle, Sir Francis Windbank, Secretary of State to Charles I. The Reades traced far into English chronicles. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 9; Vol. III., pp. 29, 40, 50; Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, Vol. IV., p. 204.) George Washington, commander of the United States Army, and General Thomas Nelson, commander of the Virginia forces at the surrender at Yorktown, were alike descended from Col. George Reade. There were in York county contemporaries of Col. George Reade, Benjamin Reade, and Francis Reade, and in Warwick county, Thomas Reade. Benjamin and Thomas are called "kinsmen" of Col. George Reade, in the records. Thomas Reade married Elizabeth Tip-lady, sister of Captain John Tiplady, and had issue, Francis, who had Thomas, who had, probably, Thomas, of Elizabeth City county, father of Hawkins Reade, "cabinet maker and wheelright," who is connected with the Sheild, McCandlish, and Pescud Families. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. IV., p. 59.)

Chisman. Lieutenant-Colonel John Chisman, who came to Virginia in 1621, was one of the first settlers to take up land in York county. Chisman's Creek is named for him. He was a member of the Virginia Council. He returned to England and resided in the parish of St. Mary Magdalene, Bermondsea, county Surry. His brother, Edmund Chisman, remained behind, and his son, Major Edmund Chisman, was prominent in Bacon's Rebellion. The Virginia family is, however, descended from the second son, Captain Thomas Chisman, who married Elizabeth Reade, a daughter of Col. George Reade. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. I., pp. 89-99, for Chisman pedigree.)

Robinson. Mr. Hayden in his Virginia Genealogies gives an interesting pedigree of this family. One of Virginia's greatest lawyers was Conway Robinson, lately deceased.

Beale. (See page 9.) The family begins with Col. Thomas Beale, member of the Virginia Council, who was in York county as early as 1645. The late Gen. Richard Lee Turberville Beale, United States member of Congress and General in Confederate State's Army, was a descendant. For Beale, see QUARTERLY III., pp. 40, 65, 69; II., p. 25.

Nutting. Captain Thomas Nutting left no male descendants. His wife was Elizabeth Booth, daughter of William Booth, J. P., who was a son, I think, of Robert Booth, clerk of York county. For Booth, see QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 11, iv., p. 53; v., pp. 180, 266.

Calthorpe. This family began with Col. Christopher Calthorpe, who came to Virginia in 1622. He was son of Christopher Calthorpe, Esq., of Blakeney, in Norfolk county, England, who was a scion of one of the proudest families in England, being connected with Queen Elizabeth. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., pp. 106, et seq., for Calthorpe pedigree.)

Sheldon. Captain William Sheldon must have been a relation of Gilbert Sheldon, Esq., of London, who executed a power of attorney to him about lands in Virginia in 1715. This Gilbert was son and heir of Daniel Sheldon, Esq., who owned lands in Virginia, and married Judith, daughter of Sir John Chapman, and widow of Sir Maurice Digges. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 8.)

It is believed that the following abstracts from the records will be of special interest, as they will enable the reader to verify in great part the work of Judge Goodwin. The assessor's books, for instance, seem to show that Peter Goodwin, who married Frances Chapman, or Toomer, was, indeed, son of Captain John Goodwin, son of Col. John Goodwin. (See page 9.) These books prove that the tract that Robert L. Williams now lives on, twelve hundred acres on south side of Back Creek, was assessed to Harold Goodwin, who was preceded (before 1833) by Peter Goodwin (whose wife was Frances), and that this Peter succeeded about 1785 Captain John Goodwin, deceased. There was another tract on the other side of Back Creek (being one hundred and seven acres) in Charles parish, which in 1782 was assessed to John Goodwin, from whom it came to Peter Goodwin (called Peter Goodwin, Sr.), who died about 1824, and was succeeded by his son, Peter R. Goodwin, who married Mahala, and had two children. A sister of this Peter R. Goodwin, Virginia E., married John Curtis.

John Hethersall died in York county in 1679 and left a widow, Rebecca. — Va. Mag. of Hist. and Reg., Vol. II. Deed of Rebecca Hethersall for 25 pils. to John Tiplady, who is about to marry her daughter, Rebecca Wythe. Witnesses: John Wythe, Henry Watkins. Dated May 7, 1687; proved June 24, 1690.

Bond of Rebecca Wythe, of the county and parish of York, to Elizabeth Tiplady and Rebecca Tiplady, of the county and parish aforesaid, for £300, to be paid in London by bills of exchange when said Eliz. and Rebecca come of age or married. The condition is, that John Tiplady, being about to marry Rebecca Wythe, confirms a part of his personal estate to his said two daughters; but the bond is to be void if said Rebecca Wythe gives them each a young negro. Witnesses: Jn<sup>o</sup> [X] Phillips, John Watkins. May 3, 1687.

Will of John Tiplady, "of the parish and county of York Octobr<sup>y</sup> 23 Day Anog. Decem 1688." To each of my two daughters Elizabeth & Rebecca Tiplady equal parts of my estate according to an agreement with my wife before our marriage, dated May 3, 1687. And I divide equally between my wife Rebecca Tiplady and my daus. Elizabeth, Rebecca & Susanna Tiplady 25£ part of the half part of my Mother Hethersall's Estate confirmed with her hand, May 7, 1687, the said half part being my wife, Rebecca's portion, due at my mother Hethersall's decease, and said 25£ to be paid within 3 years after date of agreement. And for remainder of mother Hethersall's Estate it shall be divided between my wife and daughter Susanna & the child my wife goes with. My two daus., Elizabeth & Rebecca, to stay with my wife until 18 years or married unless any of their relatives are willing to keep them. To York parish a thousand pounds of tobacco or 5£ sterl to buy a piece of plate with my name Engraved thereon, said tobacco or money to be paid by my overseers 3 years after my decease. To my natural<sup>1</sup> mother Ruth Tiplady one horse called by the name of Graye which I had by the marriage of my late wife. To sister Elizabeth Lucas and each of my overseers 20s. to buy them rings. To John Read, son of Thomas Read deced., of Warwick county one gunn which he hath already in possession. If all my children die without heirs, give my land to Robert Lucas and Charles Lucas, sons of John Lucas of Warwick Co. [Wife executrix. #### ASSESSOR'S BOOKS.

York County, 1784—107½ acres on the north side of Back Creek assessed to John Goodwin, deceased, and 1,200 acres on York River, Chesapeake Bay, and Back Creek assessed to John Goodwin.

1785.—The first tract to John Goodwin's estate, and the second to John Goodwin, deceased.

1798.—The first to Peter Goodwin, Sr., and the second to Peter Goodwin, Jr.

1824.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin's, Sen., estate, the second to Peter Goodwin, Jr.

**See Volume IV of this work, p. 406.

1829.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin, Jr., and the second to Peter Goodwin, Sen.

1832.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin, Jr., and the latter to Peter Goodwin's, Sen., estate.

1833.—Harold Goodwin succeeds to the second tract.

NOTE.—The assessor's books explain the relationship between Peter Goodwin, Sr., who married Elizabeth ———, who died in 1831, and Peter Goodwin, Jr., who married Frances Chapman, or Toomer. On page 13 it is said that Peter Goodwin, of Charles parish, son of John Goodwin, "perhaps did not survive." This seems to be an error, as he was doubtless the Peter, Sr., who, dying in 1824, left one son, who became Peter, Jr., while Peter, Jr. (son of Capt. John Goodwin, of Yorkhampton parish, on the other side of Back Creek, the dividing line of the parishes), became Peter, Sr. Upon the death of this last Peter, about 1833, his son Harold inherited the twelve hundred acre tract. The following data should, therefore, have followed the paragraph devoted to John Goodwin on page 13. *

Peter Goodwin, Sr. (John, Peter, Peter, James), married Elizabeth, and had issue: i. Peter R. Goodwin, who married Mahala ———; and ii. Virginia E., who married John Curtis.

Peter R. Goodwin (Peter, John, Peter, Peter, James), born in York county, Va., married Mahala, living in 1832. His will mentions wife Mahala and two children.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

It is but right and proper that acknowledgment should be made of the liberality of Mr. James J. Goodwin, of Hartford, Conn., without whose pecuniary assistance this publication would probably not have been made. A similar generous spirit on the part of Mr. Goodwin rendered possible the researches of Henry F. Waters in the English archives. Mr. Waters' "Gleanings" are published in the New England Historical and Genealogic Register, and are invaluable to those interested in old Virginia families. Judge John S. Goodwin puts it too strongly (on page 1) when he says of the English origin of the Goodwins of Connecticut that it has "so far eluded the most diligent search." In fact, much has been accomplished, though the information is not yet as precise as might be desired. **

CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS.*

- PAGE 6.—In fifth line, for “swear to his father’s will,” read “qualify on his father’s will.”
- PAGE 7.—Major James Goodwin seems to have had two children by his second wife, Robert and Martin, which would indicate the early death of Robert, the son by the first wife. Martin Goodwin married Barbara Rogers. See Dr. Tyler’s notes.
- PAGE 8.—Elizabeth Goodwin, here given, may not have been the Elizabeth Goodwin who was the ward of Albritton Wagstaffe. It may have been Elizabeth Goodwin (Martin, James) on page 58, who was the ward. In that event, the date of birth given on page 8 would not be the date of birth of that Elizabeth.
- PAGE 9.—Peter Goodwin. Strike out the last two lines (in parenthesis), as Dr. Tyler’s notes show the correctness of this line of descent.
- PAGE 9.—Mary Goodwin (Peter, John, John, James), should read Mary Goodwin (Peter, John, John, John, James).
- PAGE 10.—Rachel Goodwin, ninth line, married Thomas Charles.
- PAGE 34.—William F. T. Garnett is correct.
- PAGE 58.—Elizabeth Goodwin, see correction to page 8.
- PAGE 130.—Appendix Y., Robert Goodwin appears from Dr. Tyler’s notes not to have been the eldest son of Major James Goodwin, that Robert presumably having died, and this Robert being a son of the second marriage.

THE GOODWIN FAMILIES IN AMERICA.

BY JUDGE JOHN S. GOODWIN.

As a supplement to the October, 1897, number of the WILLIAM AND MARY QUARTERLY* the record of the descendants of Major James Goodwin was published, and in connection with the same some twenty-six other Goodwin families were given in Appendixes, many of them supposed to be branches of Major James Goodwin's family, but not then fully identified as such. As stated in the 1897 Supplement the entire collection of data grew out of an endeavor to trace the ancestry of the Goodwins of Brookville, Indiana, whose family history was given in Appendix A. The publication of that collection by Dr. Tyler was made possible by the liberality of Hon. James J. Goodwin, of Hartford, Conn., and New York, and to the same gentleman is due the credit of this publication, which is intended to correct and supplement the first collection. To carry out this plan and to avoid unnecessary repetition the lettering of the exhibits in this supplement is made to correspond with the first one, to which reference must be had. The additional Maryland data is furnished by Mr. Warren S. Ely, of Doylestown, Pa. It has been impossible to tabulate and connect much of it as yet, but it is well worthy of preservation.

It is scarcely necessary to say that no knowledge has been gained of the origin of the GOODWINS of BROOKVILLE, INDIANA, in the search for which all this family history has been collected.

Very few corrections and additions have to be made among the known descendants of Major James Goodwin. The Appendixes are taken up in their order and modified as needs be, and the new records follow.

CORRECTIONS.*

Page 127.—G. B. Goodwin (fourth line from the top) married Henrietta Minter, not Dupuy. He is the George Bennett Goodwin mentioned on page 100.

Page 127.—Theophilus Goodwin (third line from bottom of Appendix W) was born in 1761, not 1744, and was pensioned in 1818, then fifty-seven years old, not seventy-four.

ADDITIONS.

Page 5.—Major James Goodwin's ancestry, as given on page 5, can be traced with reasonable certainty still further. The History of Buckingham County, England, states that William Goodwin, of Bucks and London, born about 1470, had two children, John and Blase. John Goodwin married Katherine —, and had eighteen children. The eldest was Sir John Goodwin, the father of Sir Francis Goodwyn, who was in Virginia in 1620, dying in England in 1634. Sir Francis's son Arthur had a daughter, Jane, baptized in 1618. It seems safe to assume that Henry Goodwin, of Bucks and London, ancestor of Major James, was one of the eighteen children of John Goodwin, and a grandson of William Goodwin, as that was the only Goodwin family in Bucks and as Henry's son, Robert, was of the same age as Sir Francis; Robert's son, Peter, of the same age as Arthur; and Peter's son, Major James, was about the age of Jane, baptized in 1618. However this may be, it is desirable, in the light of Dr. Tyler's discoveries, to reprint the record of the immediate family of Major James.

1. Major James Goodwin (Peter, Robert, Henry, John, William), born in London, married, first, Rachel —, born in 1630, and died in Virginia in 1666; second, Blanche Morce, whose will was proved September 22, 1701. Rachel left five sons and two daughters, according to her tombstone, but it is certain that two sons had died before 1692 without leaving issue, for upon dividing up the estate of Major James Goodwin in that year the auditors reported to the court that there were seven children and the widow entitled to shares. As Major James had two sons by his second wife who survived their mother, and as there is no mention of any children of the deceased sons, who would have inherited a child's share, the conclusion is irresistible that two of the first wife's sons had died without issue, and that John, Peter, Matthew, Susannah, Elizabeth, Robert and Martin were the seven surviving children. Children by first wife: i. Robert, born —, living in 1666; 2, ii. John, born —, married Elizabeth Moore; 3, iii. Peter, born —, married Rebecca Tiplady; 4, iv. Mathew, born —, married —; v. son, born —, living in 1666; 5, vi. Susannah, born —, married — Duke; 6, vii. Elizabeth, born —, married — Blinkhorn. Children by second wife: 7, viii. Robert, born —, married Anne —; 8, ix. Martin, born — married Barbara Rogers.

2. Capt. John Goodwin (James), born in England, married Elizabeth Moore: resided in York Parish and died in 1701. (See page 6, 1897 Supplement.) Children: i. Elizabeth, born —, married, first, William Moss, second, Robert Kerby; ii. James, born —, married Mildred Reade and d. s. p.; iii. Rachel, born —, married Charles Wise; iv. Susannah, born —, unmarried in 1719; v. John (Colonel), born —, married —.

3. Peter Goodwin (James), born probably in Virginia, married Rebecca Tiplady and died in 1732. (See pages 9 and 10, 1897 Supplement.) Children: i. John (Capt), baptized Dec. 25, 1698, married, first, Elizabeth Doswell, second, Anne —; ii. Elizabeth, baptized 1700-'01, untraced; iii. Peter, born —, married Mrs. Mary (Robinson) Calthorpe; iv. James, born —, married, first, Diana Chisman, second, Mrs. Elizabeth (Chapman) Chisman; v. Rachel, born —, married Thomas Charles; vi. Anne, born —, untraced.

4. Mathew Goodwin (James), born probably in Virginia about 1658, was living in York county in 1701. The fact that it has been impossible to get complete data of the children of Robert and Martin Goodwin, the half-brothers of this man, makes it unsafe to assign positively any family to Mathew, although it now appears reasonable that he was the ancestor of several of the families which cannot trace direct to Major James. John Goodwin (Appendix Y)*, who married Mary Elliot April 22, 1705, in Christ Church Parish, Middlesex county, Va., cannot trace through Robert, as I had supposed, but if a grandson of Major James at all (and I begin to doubt it), must have been Mathew's son. I am very much inclined to believe that this John was the son of Rev. Benjamin Goodwin, who settled in Gloucester county, adjoining Middlesex county, in 1700. In Bristol Parish, Dinwiddie county, Va., a Thomas and Martha Goodwin were baptizing children in 1721 and 1722, and a Mathew and Ann Goodwin baptized a daughter, Susannah D., in 1736, and a son, John, in 1740. Sheldon Goodwin, dying in York county in 1751, may have been a descendant of one of the half-brothers, but if Major James' first wife was of Porter blood, then John Porter Goodwin, mentioned in a law suit in 1730, can descend only through Mathew; but I cannot reconcile this proposition with the dates if John who married Mary Elliot was a son of Mathew, as this John had no son John Porter and the latter was in fact too old to have been a grandson of Mathew. A Mathew Goodwin was in York Co. in 1732. It appears probable that the Thomas who settled near Petersburg, Va., in Bristol Parish, was son of this older Mathew. (See in this connection Appendix K of this issue.) Omitting, then, the John who married Mary Elliot in 1705 we have these probable children: i. Thomas, born about 1685, married Martha —; ii. Mathew, born —, living in York county in 1732; iii. Peter, born —, see NOTES, page 24; iv. John Porter, born —, living in York county in 1730.

5. Susannah Goodwin (James), married — Duke, and died probably before 1701. Duke children: i. James, born —; ii. Elizabeth, born —.

6. Elizabeth Goodwin (James), married — Blinkhorn, and received a bequest from her stepmother in 1701; no child known to me.

7. Robert Goodwin (James), a son of the second wife, was probably born about 1670, and it appears that Appendix Y will have to be changed by cutting out one generation, and that it was this Robert, and not his son Robert, who was patron of a school in 1711, and that he was not the father of John, who married in 1705. The records show that a Martin Goodwin was one of the orphan children of Robert, but unfortunately do not tell who were the others. It would thus appear that the Robert Goodwin in York county in 1736 (then aged thirty-three), 1742 and 1748 was the son of this Robert, and that he married and had a daughter, who married Samuel Hill, of York county, and perhaps other daughters—Rebecca and Anne. There may have been, and doubtless were, others in addition to the following children: i. Martin, born —, d. s. p.; ii. Robert, born —, 1703, married —.

8. Martin Goodwin (James), born in York county, married Barbara Rogers, daughter of John Rogers, by whose will (page 147, 1897 Supplement)* we learn that Elizabeth was Martin's oldest daughter. The son Martin, born about 1713, died in 1749 in Elizabeth City county, leaving four children, James, Martin, Elizabeth and Robert. There were probably more than these children: i. Elizabeth, born 1711; ii. Martin, born about 1713, married Elizabeth —.

Page 2.—Devereaux Goodwin disappears from the Maryland records, so far as I can learn, about 1705. I find that on May 4, 1715, a Devereux Gooding was rector of Desborough Hundred, Buckingham, England. It seems probable that Devereaux, Sir Francis and Major James were all descendants of the John and Katherine Goodwin, of Buckingham, or Bucks, who had eighteen children.

Page 13.—John Goodwin (Peter, Peter, James) had son Peter, born 1768, who was said probably not to have survived. This is an error, as shown by page 158, 1897 Supplement, he being Peter, Sr., as shown by the note on that page.

Pages 15-16.—Thomas Goodwin (John, James, Peter, James) enlisted in January, 1781, then aged fifteen years, under Capt. Thomas Doswell and Col. Park Goodall, for three months. He reenlisted in May, 1781, as a private under Capt. William Norvill and Col. John Taylor.

APPENDIX A.**

THE GOODWINS OF BROOKVILLE, INDIANA.

Thomas Goodwin, born about 1730-'40, was married twice, but had no children by his second wife. He was a farmer and slave-owner and a Quaker. His son Thomas, Jr., is said to have been born in Pennsylvania, and to have inherited a part of his father's estate about 1815. Probably the facts will be found to be that Thomas Goodwin, Sr., resided in Montgomery county, or at least in Maryland, where the Aiken, Wiles, McKinley, Shaw and Rees families lived, and that after the death of his first wife he remarried and moved into Pennsylvania and there died. Thomas Jr., went along the old National Road to Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa., and thence eventually to Brookville, Ind. Thomas Jr., had brothers and sisters, but their names or descendants are not known. In the search for records which would identify the family of Thomas Goodwin Sr., much of the data of the various Goodwin families in America has been collected, and while the records throw no light on the point in question, they are given to the Goodwins in printed form in the hope that they may hereafter be the foundation for a complete history. Mr. Warren S. Ely, of Doylestown, Pa., calls attention to a possible solution of the Thomas Goodwin Sr., puzzle, as follows:

Richard Goodwin, a planter and slave-owner, died in Anne Arundel county, Md., about January 1, 1796, leaving wife Mary, sons Richard, John and Thomas, giving a negro to the latter in addition to land, and daughters Elizabeth, Ara and Ellinder. Richard also mentions grandchildren and appoints his son-in-law, Charles Robinson, his executor. It can be assumed that Richard, a grandfather, apparently surviving some of his children and mentioning grandchildren among his heirs, might have been born around 1720, and be about seventy-six years old at death; that his son Thomas might have been born about 1745, and was by this will a slave-owner, and might have been the father of Thomas Jr., born April 27, 1767; that Charles Robinson, a son-in-law, was appointed executor because the sons had gone from home and "set up" for themselves; and finally it shows that Thomas Sr. (?), was living in 1796, and might well have survived until 1810-'15, when Thomas Jr., inherited from him.

The points of similarity are quite striking, and further investigation should either furnish additional proof or disprove the guess. Child (only one known): i. Thomas, born April 29, 1767, married Catherine Rees.

Thomas Goodwin (Thomas), born April 29, 1767, was married about 1788 to Catherine Rees, born October 7, 1767, a daughter of David and Lydia (—) Rees, who were born in Wales. Catherine knew her husband's step-mother, but not his own mother. They resided, perhaps, in Lancaster, Pa., surely in Brownsville, Pa., and thence going to Ohio and eventually
